Notes:

A new Maths Course, Project Maths, begins in September 2010 for 1st Years. There are no books published for this course, apart from supplements for existing books. Teachers have decided to go without the published supplements and, instead, provide their own supplementary notes. The book, Texts & Tests 1, should be available second-hand for about €5 as it will be of no use after this year.

Students who have studied French or German in primary school often come with their minds made up and have already bought the book. They find after the 'taster' period however, that they want to change but the book companies will not exchange the book. We would recommend that you postpone buying a book for French or German until the student has tasted both subjects.
